

Product Manager (Upstream Marketing)

STATE-OF-THE-ART SOLUTIONS
FOR THE CATARACT SURGERY

Do you wish to work at a modern innovative company with in-house R&D? Do you know how to establish links between various sources of information like no other and do you have an eye for detail without losing the big picture? Please continue reading because we are looking for YOU, a Product Manager.

What will you be doing in the position of Product Manager?

As a Product Manager you understand our customers, the international markets and you know how to translate these requirements into products and services offered by Teleon. You are responsible for formulating and maintaining the product strategy. You conduct market and competitive analysis and are responsible for product launch preparation. You will support the set-up and evaluation of the required clinical studies and are able to prepare marketing material for current and new products. In doing so, you will maintain a close cooperation with the R&D/RA/QA departments. The Product Manager is located in Spankeren and works closely with the locations in Berlin and Leverkusen. As Product Manager, you fulfill the following competencies:

- HBO/WO work and reasoning level in a technical/medical direction
- 3 years of work experience in medical technology / ophthalmology, as a minimum
- Innovative, analytic, excellent English communication skills and preferably also in German
- You are flexible and willing to travel internationally (up to 30% of your time)

Why work for Teleon?

- We are enterprising and ambitious. There is plenty of room for your own input and personal development;
- Excellent atmosphere, great colleagues and challenging projects;
- Competitive salary and an annual variable bonus of up to 10% of your gross yearly salary;
- 25 vacation days plus a possibility to purchase additional days, flexible working hours within day shifts;
- Excellent pension plan with low personal contributions.
